

Why choose Classics/Classical Civilization A Level?

This course will give you the opportunity to explore the world of Ancient Greece, Ancient Rome and other ancient civilizations, developing your historical skills as well as exploring the literature and culture of the ancient world.

What will I study?

You will study the vast and rich histories of the different ancient civilizations such as Greece and Rome. This course delves deeply into the literature of the classical world by studying stories from writers such as Homer and his story of the Trojan War. You will also look deeply into the culture of the civilizations as well as focusing on the philosophy of ancient thinkers which still influence our laws and way of life today.

What career and university options can it lead to?

The study of Classics is highly sought-after course for many high ranking universities. The transferable skills you will gain will be invaluable for whichever career you choose. The most common careers where Classics can lead you are careers in law, journalism, teaching, and archaeology.

www.grove-school.co.uk/sixth-form

